Service-Learning in Sustainable Development

Academic Year 2018-2019

Course Instructor:
Dr Aries Wong

This course raises students' awareness towards the importance of the balance of economic development, social inclusion and environmental impact. Students will acquire knowledge of sustainability and develop service projects that address human and community needs.

Caring for the Future Others

Sustainable development is "development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs" *. In collaboration with our NGO partners, students will develop projects to raise public awareness of the principles of sustainable development and to encourage sustainable practices in Hong Kong. The projects will range from cultural sustainability, to sustainable consumption to minority community development.

Recruitment is open throughout the academic year.
